How should I let my local Goodwill know I'm bringing donations?

We appreciate you giving the store a heads-up that you will be stopping by with donations from your drive. What time will you be there? How much do you anticipate delivering? We want to make sure our donation door is staffed to give you the customer service you deserve. Find locations here: goodwillncw.org/locations

What are the common types of donation drives?

- School donation drives: Hosting a drive at school is an opportunity to educate students about the importance of recycling and giving back. Kids, families, teachers and administration are encouraged to bring gently used donations to school.
- Business donation drives: Companies can sponsor donation drives targeting employees and the public when applicable as a way to support a local nonprofit.
- Organization donation drives: Whether you're representing a club, church, neighborhood or civic organization, you may decide to have a drive to collect only one particular item, such as a coats or shoes.
- College drives: These drives are held at the end of a semester when students are preparing to move out. Campus organizations such as sororities, fraternities or the student government association can sponsor drives.
